- You MUST pick up a "GRADUATION CARD" upon entrance into the PEES building. The "GRADUATION CARD" not only gives you your number in line but it is the card you will hand to the Academic Vice President to call out your name before crossing the stage.
- At 10:30 a.m. in the Auxiliary Gym, everyone will be directed to form the procession line by the number on your card. The procession line is formed in accordance with the commencement program (alphabetically by degree, major, name). Again, let me stress the need to hold on to your "GRADUATION CARD" – this is the card you will hand to the Academic Vice President to call out your name before crossing the stage.
- Follow the Marshall into arena and to your seat. REMAIN STANDING until the Invocation has been given then you may sit down. MEN: remove your cap.
- SPEAKER

- PRESENTATION TO CANDIDATES: LISTEN for instructions from the Academic Vice President – he will first call for Master degree candidates by stating, "All candidates for the Masters degree please rise". Wait for the Marshall to indicate for you to proceed to the stage.

When the Master candidates have returned to their seats, he will call for the Bachelor degree candidates by stating, "All candidates for the Bachelor degree please rise". Wait for instructions to move to the stage. The Marshall will lead the FIRST ROW to the stage and the REMAINING GRADUATES MAY SIT DOWN. REMAINING CANDIDATES, WAIT for the Marshall to indicate for your row to rise and proceed to the stage.

Step upon stage and hand your name "GRADUATION CARD" to the Academic Vice President. DO NOT move across the stage until you hear your name! Your preliminary academic honors will be announced at this time. Receive your diploma cover with your left hand and shake hands with your right.

- CONCLUSION - Platform dignitaries will recess first, faculty and graduation candidates will exit next. You will recess to your right, two rows at a time. Please to prevent confusion and congestion problems, recess completely out of the arena then enter the PEES building taking the hallway back to the auxiliary gym and exit out those doors before greeting your family and friends.
