SOUTH CAROLINA SPEECH & THEATRE ASSOCIATION

Encouraging a Passion for Excellence in Speech and Theatre Education in South Carolina

SATURDAY, APRIL 2, 2022 • LANDER UNIVERSITY • GREENWOOD, SC

OUR MISSION

The mission of the South Carolina Speech and Theatre Association is to encourage a passion for excellence in Speech & Theatre education in South Carolina.

OUR HISTORY & WELCOME

SCSTA has been encouraging a passion for excellence in speech and theatre education in South Carolina for over 50 years. The South Carolina Speech & Theatre Association, or SCSTA, was founded in 1958 and was formerly known as the South Carolina Speech Association (SCSA) and later, the South Carolina Speech Communication Association (SCSCA). In 1970, the Association sponsored its first speech festival for high school students. As the festival competitions continued, the members added more and more theatre and acting events. Additionally, the organization added the College division and the Middle School division to create the current organizational setup.

SCSTA is a professional organization that promotes the study of all areas of performance and oral communication: acting, oral interpretation/performance studies, theatre, broadcasting, public speaking, discussion and debate, and speech/theatre education. SCSTA serves both the public and private schools and the colleges and universities in South Carolina through three spring festival competitions, and through recognition of outstanding contributors to our efforts. SCSTA holds three division festivals annually (College, High School, and Middle School).

The festivals for Middle School, High School, and College students are held annually. These one-day festivals include individual and small group events in a variety of categories such as Audition Monologue, Duet Acting, Original Monologues, Reader's Theatre, Impromptu Speaking, and Musical Theatre. All participants receive feedback from adjudicators. Students receiving the highest scores in their rounds advance to finals, and the top 3 performers in each category are recognized at an awards ceremony at the end of the day.
